

E-mail marketing to renters in all 50 states is now available. Condo developers, builders of starter homes and apartment developers are now able to reach and directly influence young singles and families that will be the next buyer/renter of their properties. Income levels, age and various other indicators have been factored to make this E-mail database list even more responsive. Your message can be linked to both your website and an E-mail address. More information about Renter E-mails is available on our website, RegisterMarketing.com.
